MEET OUR FACULTY

Det. David Pantoja

Detective David Pantoja was recently invited to President Biden's Inauguration in January. He was honored with this invitation due to receiving several awards as a Los Angeles Sheriff Deputy (LASD). Detective Pantoja has received "Deputy of the Year" award three times, earned the CHP's "10851" prestigious pin, received the "Meritorious" award for saving innocent citizens lives, along with several performance commendations from his supervisors and the public.

In 2019, Detective Pantoja was sent to the California Highway Patrol Training Facility in Sacramento and trained to perform the Pursuit Intervention Technique (PIT). In early 2020, he was one of the first three Deputies to employ the PIT maneuver on the Sheriff's Department.

Detective Pantoja has had several assignments during his tenure with the Sheriff's Department, including Custody Division at Men's Central Jail; Patrol; Transit Services Bureau; Norwalk Station where he was assigned to Enforcement Team and promoted to Field Training Officer, and is currently working the Detective Bureau.

Detective Pantoja is a graduate of Fullerton College and the Fullerton College Police Academy. He was the youngest in history of Fullerton College to complete the 10 month academy, and then joined the LASD. Detective Pantoja is married with two children and is an adjunct faculty member on the Administration of Justice Department team.
